

WE NOMINATE

Peter Wilhelm Hegener, 29-year-old founder and director of the Princeton-based "Peterson's Guides, Inc.," a remarkable and mushrooming venture in "effective communication in graduate education." The young entrepreneur's operations, headquartered at 20 Nassau Street and now, in their second summer, stretching out to all sections of the country, stemmed from his realization two years ago that "there was simply no way for any one to find out easily and quickly about graduate programs in various schools throughout the United States; nor was there a really efficient way for the schools to contact prospective students."

With his wife, Karen, a graduate of Bennington College and a writer and editor in the educational field, Hegener, a member of the Class of 1960 at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, devised a plan for a single guide covering graduate study in all areas, to be issued in loose-leaf form and capable of constant and quick revision. They carefully worked out a prospectus and format, based upon 100's of consultations with college students going on to graduate study, graduate advisers and placement directors, and mailed out 3,000 copies. Within months they received some $10,000 in contracts for the new publication.

A year ago, in view of the enthusiastic reception accorded the idea by institutions both large and small, Hegener resigned from his post of Director of Career Services at Princeton University and launched his "profit-oriented" undertaking, which bears his first name and commotes the hope that some day there may be a son in the business. Indicative of the reaction of educators was this Ivy League evaluation: "We are delighted that you are going ahead with your plans for publishing a series of graduate guides. The proliferation of promotional posters and fliers has clearly resulted in waste and inefficiency; students despair of making order and sense out of the present chaos."

For fixed rates ranging from $185 to $205 per subscribing school or department, more than 450 institutions have "concise and realistic" digests of features of their graduate programs published in Peterson's. The volumes, ranging far and wide through the groves of academe from the arts and sciences to business, engineering, journalism and public administration, are distributed to 650 colleges and universities, some 12,000 advisers to undergraduate students, large public libraries and selected centers of graduate school information, including United States Information Agency offices and military information branches in this country and overseas.

Hegener, who spent his first four post-college years in industry, points out that by leafing through the guides a prospective graduate student, or his adviser, can find all essential information. It includes such basics as the program of study, costs and the method of application. And it also gives research equipment and facilities, faculty research interests, cost of living for married or single students, financial aid, employment opportunities for wives and even an account of the cultural and recreational resources of the surrounding community. For instance, Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn notes that "nearby Long Island is a paradise for boating, fishing, and water-sports enthusiasts."

For dredging new channels of communication between higher education and the ever-growing numbers of graduate students; for pointing out that more and more men and women must enter the evolving professional fields if the improvement of human welfare is to continue; for providing needed information services "while riding the wave of the future as a kind of academic surfer," he is our nominee as

This Is PRINCETON

CANDIDATE NAMED

"Twicedledon and Twicedledon agreed to have a battle . . ."

For Borough Race, Borough residents voting for mayor this fall will have to look twice to see which man they want to vote for.

The Democrats have announced that Archibald S. Alexander Jr. will run for mayor against Republican incumbent Henry S. Patterson, seeking his fourth term.

The two candidates are enough alike to be mirror images of one another. In fact, symbolically, they live on opposite sides of the same street.

Both are tall, handsome aristocrats who live in the Borough's western section. Both are graduates of Princeton University (Mr. Alexander in 1955, Mr. Patterson in 1944). Both, as undergraduates, were members of Ivy Club. Both live on Westcott Road, Mr. Alexander at 61, Mr. Patterson at 46.

In manner, they are far apart: Mr. Patterson is impishly flippancy; Mr. Alexander, sees the Borough's broad problems as those concerned with planning for the future, zoning, traffic, juvenile unrest, housing. Mr. Patterson, with six years of experience in Borough Hall behind him, would unquestionably agree.

Democrats United? Mr. Alexander will be joined on the Democratic ticket in the Borough by James Andrews, 43 Hibben Road, assistant to the president of Princeton Theological Seminary, and Wilbert Brooks, 188 John Street, building superintendent of the John Witherspoon School, both running for Council, and Mrs. Marie Coan, 29 Chestnut Street, running for re-election to the post of tax collector.

It is a fascinating ticket. In spite of all the dust raised last spring by the Democratic Organization, new and vigorous and ready to take a strong, fresh liberal swing at the Princeton Political game — it's a straight, old Princeton Democratic Association ("firehouse") ticket, even though all candidates have the new group's endorsement.

At the time of the split, Mr. Alexander remained neutral. Later, he kept fences mended in both camps by joining the new Democratic Community Organization and attending its meetings. He is, today, a member of both groups and endorsed as a candidate by both, but the new group says he is "four man" running unopposed for Committeeman in the Borough's Eighth District.

Actually, Mr. Alexander had hoped the party would let him run for Assembly. But in a conference with Joseph S. Bash, Democratic County Chairman, held only about 24 hours before the filing deadline last week, Mr. Alexander was persuaded to run for mayor in the interests of Democratic party unity in Princeton.

Mr. Andrews, who ran for Council unsuccessfully in 1962, never left the old group at all. Mr. Brooks, also a stalwart of the old group, is their candidate for Committeeman in District Six. Incidentally, Mr. Brooks is a member of the Joint Recreation Commission, appointed by Republican Mayor Patterson.

Mrs. Coan, of course, is a pillar of the old Princeton Democratic Association. And under a new state law, if she is re-elected to the four-year tax collector's job in November, she will have tenure in the job and need not run again.

Notice to TOWN TOPICS Readers in Princeton

Effective with the issue of Thursday, August 17, a charge of ten cents per copy will be made for TOWN TOPICS at all newsstands in Princeton.

In the two decades since TOWN TOPICS began to publish, all costs have risen steadily, and the luxury of giving away an endless supply of a newspaper running from 40 to 72 pages must in some measure be abated.

As has been the policy for the past 21 years, a copy will continue to be delivered free to every home and place of business with a Princeton address. Newsstand copies will also continue to be made available without charge in nearby communities, where there is no house-to-house delivery.

He said his campaign theme will be "the importance of facing Princeton's problems NOW, rather than waiting until problems are crises. This reduces your freedom to maneuver, and means that the cost of solving them is infinitely higher."

Both Mr. Alexander and Mr. Andrews are ideal candidates because, in spite of "firehouse" affiliation, they are the kind of young, liberal intellectuals who have philosophic ties with the splinter Community Organization.

So there is a lot of talk about "unity" in the party, but Edward Sweeney, president of the Princeton Democratic Association and a hard-headed politician of some years' experience, says flatly, "The other group just didn't have the candidates to run."

I Believe . . . Mr. Alexander, in an interview this week, outlined his broad approach to the campaign, although he emphasized that he has not had time to work out a detailed platform, for example, he hasn't yet read the new Master Plan and does not yet know what position he will take in regard to it.

As a lawyer with the Newark branch of the New Jersey firm of Lum, Biunno and Thompson, he has specialized in administrative law handling questions that arise between governing bodies on the one hand, and corporations or individuals on the other. "I've had a lot of experience in zoning matters," he said.

Mr. Alexander sees the eastern seaboard's population rise as a major source of problems for the Borough: "We cannot pretend Princeton is not involved. Even if the population increase is outside our borders, we must confront its consequences here, like traffic, for example."

THE CRISIS THAT WASN'T

Today, there are many quick victories over disease. Each might be described as a crisis that didn't quite happen — thanks to today's superior medicinal agents.

Modern medicines prescribed by your physician score amazing triumphs over diseases which, only a decade ago, were almost certain to become dangerously serious.

Present-day pharmaceuticals, such as the antibiotics, require complex equipment, intricate controls and highly skilled technicians for production. Although somewhat higher in cost, they actually are an investment in economy. They effect an earlier cure and cut down expensive sick-bed time.

 He also plans conferences with Paul Ylvisaker's Department of Community Affairs on housing, and with President Robert F. Goheen of Princeton University to suggest that the University expand its concept of "Princeton in the nation's service" to include more participation in Princeton community affairs.
 He has already had a brief conference with his opponent, Mayor Patterson said at his news conference this week that he called Mr. Alexander to congratulate the Democratic party on choosing a good candidate. He said he offered the Borough's services in supplying Mr. Alexander with whatever facts and information he needed to pursue his campaign.

Mayor Patterson said he would run on his record, citing the Jackson Street re-alignment, Borough participation in the new library and recreation complex, the new Borough Hall and completion of the new Master Plan. He added, "I always run scared."
 "I hope the program that will emerge from my conferences with experts," Mr. Alexander said, "will be as close as possible to a model program for a suburban community — hopefully a national model, because Princeton has problems all suburbs share."

INJURED GIRL RECOVERS
 Released from Hospital. Nine-year-old Florence Bineau went home from Princeton Hospital Tuesday morning, just one week to the day that she came close to losing her life under a wheel of her family's car.

Although Florence will bear the scars of the accident for some time, the outcome of the tragic mishap is far happier than it might have been thanks to the quick action of Borough Patrolman Allen R. Benkert.

Arriving at the home of Prof. Edward Sampson, 102 Lafayette Road, where Mr. and

No Township Democrat

The Democrats did not enter a candidate in the Township Committee contest.

So far, at least, this means that Republican Committeeman William L. Wilson is unopposed for reelection to his third term, and Harry J. Volwiler unopposed to finish the two years left in David Thompson's term.

The legal picture is cloudy. Democrats can, of course, run a write-in campaign for the November election. Simon Marcson, of the Princeton Community Democratic Organization, says that the party simply didn't enter the primary, but will undoubtedly file a candidate 40 days before the November election.

Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini isn't sure the Democrats can do this. An independent can file such a petition, but a candidate chosen by the Democrats would probably not pass muster as a bona fide independent. Mr. Nini has asked the county for a ruling.

Mrs. Michel Bineau and their family had been staying. Ptl. Benkert and Ptl. William Hunter found Florence apparently lifeless from all outward appearances.

However, Ptl. Benkert immediately began applying mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, and Florence responded with a heartbeat and a few short gasping breaths. Rushed to the hospital by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, she underwent an emergency tracheotomy and was admitted to the intensive care unit in critical condition.

A Grateful Family. Ptl. Benkert's alert thinking has earned him not only the heart-felt thanks of the Bineaus, but also praise from his boss, police chief Peter J. McCrohan. "He's an exceptionally good officer," Chief McCrohan said.

"Ptl. Benkert was the top man in a class of 55 at the Municipal Police Training School in Sea Girt. I'd like to have some more like him."

The 27-year-old Benkert, who is married with two children joined the Borough force just a little more than a year and a half ago, just out of the Air Force. He grew up in Lawrence Harbor and graduated from Sayerville High School.

An indication of Ptl. Benkert's dedication to his work—something that proved indispensable last week—was a first aid course he had just finished. Chief McCrohan pointed out that Ptl. Benkert had taken the course on his own on his nights off.

SLOW DELIVERY
At Post Office Hearing. "Get to the meat of it and quit all this minute detail!" exclaimed Russell Van Cleve, chairman of the Township Zoning Board, about half way through the 7:30-12 hearing Tuesday night on Thane Corporation's request to build a Princeton post office on North Harrison in the Township's engineering-research zone.

Mr. Van Cleve's plea was repeated, with even more asperity, as the hearing drew toward its midnight close, but in vain. The adjourned meeting will reconvene in Township Hall next Monday at 7:30 p.m.

"This minute detail" was a four and one-half hour recital of post office procedure and the Princeton post office's desperate need for more space. Garrett Heber, attorney for Thane, replied to Mr. Van Cleve's remarks about brevity by pointing out the court stenographer who was present, and reminding the Zoning Board that he would need detail if he had to take his case to court.

And so he produced John Dilworth, Princeton postmaster; Basil Ferrara, superintendent of mails for Princeton, and Charles A. Reiss, chief of the post office department's Space Requirements Branch for this area.

How Many? Traffic, noise and light are the chief concerns of those who oppose a North Harrison post office. Officials told the Board there would be 120-128 employees at the new location, plus 21-28 left at Palmer Square. Only about 100 would be at work at any one time. In 20 years, there might be 170 employees. A minimum of 42 employee parking spaces has been suggested.

Five employees would start the day at 4:30 a.m., three of them unloading the big truck that comes up from Trenton, and pushing the mail into the building from the platform on rubber-tired hand trucks. Mr. Ferrara said that mail pouches make little noise, although he admitted that the metal hampers used between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. might make noise.

Questioned by T. C. Allen of Terhune Road, he said no formal study had been made of the noise volume of post office trucks when they accelerate. Mr. Allen suggested that the post office be moved far north on Mt. Lucas Road.

The present fleet of 14 post office trucks would operate out of North Harrison, but would be serviced at the Citgo Station in the Shopping Center.

Lights? A spotlight under the platform overhang would light the work area at 4:30 a.m. One light would remain on for security, all night. Mr. Ferrara said, in reply to cross-examination, that he didn't know whether the light would be visible from side properties.

The big users of the Princeton post office came under some big guns. One of the post office's biggest customers—Educational Testing Service—bypasses Princeton and takes all outgoing mail directly to Trenton under a special post office dispensation, and officials were questioned closely to find out whether other big firms—RCA, the University, ORC, Gallup and Robinson, D. Van Nostrand

Mr. Ferrara told the Board that the post offices handles 87.5 million pieces of first and third-class mail a year; and 1.5 million pieces of fourth class (parcel post). The only second class mail in Princeton is about 5,000 copies weekly of the "Princeton Packet", Mr. Ferrara said.

The hearing, so full of meticulous detail, closed on a note of contention in regard to detail. John W. Devine, from the Trenton law firm of Pellettieri & Rabstein, represented about eight property owners opposed to the post office.

He challenged post office projections presented by Mr. Reiss, asking for detailed explanations of the formulae used by post office officials in arriving at square footages.

William Geddes, of the Zoning Board, supported Mr. Devine and said the figures were meaningless unless the Board knew precisely how they were computed. But Mr. Van Cleve disputed both men, and said that Mr. Reiss' status as an expert, and his sworn testimony that the figures were arrived at by standard post office formulae, should be enough.

PARK, OR NOT TO PARK?

At Community Park, "The needs of the people of Princeton are more important than recreation alone," observed Henry J. Frank, 70 Valley Road, as Princeton Township Committee pondered on Monday night the no-parking ordinance for the two parking lots adjoining Community Park.

"I couldn't vote for this ordinance as it now stands," stated Mayor Carl C. Schafer, and so Committee voted unanimously to table it for reworking.

A sharp, fast volley developed between Committee and Recreation Commission in the course of the public hearing. Harry J. Volwieder, who had just been sworn in minutes before as a brand-new Committeeman (he replaces David Thompson), found himself in the middle of it all: he's chairman of the Joint Recreation Commission.

The ordinance would have prohibited overnight parking in the two lots, and allowed daytime and evening parking only to people using recreation facilities, employees of the two schools or townspeople attending a public meeting in Township Hall or a school. Such parking would have been allowed only by the grace of the Recreation Commission.

Who Can Park Here? "The parking lots were built for people using recreation facilities," said R. Donald Barr, recreation director.

"I disagree," said Committeeman William L. Wilson trar-

Henry Hatcher Jr., 52 Leigh Avenue, protested that the ordinance would be an extreme hardship for Leigh-Birch residents who have no driveways, and are now using the lots for overnight parking. He reminded Committee that when the lots were built, police and Committee agreed with Birch-Leigh residents that the new parking areas would provide definite relief for the tight parking situation on those streets.

"These lots were paid for by the taxpayers, and we should be able to go to the schools or Township Hall without the approval of the recreation director," said Mr. Frank.

He suggested that 60 overnight spaces be allotted on the north side of the lot, (where headlights would shine out into the ballpark and not into bedroom windows), and he asked, "Where will these cars go if they can't park here overnight?"

More Room Needed. Mr. Barr said the lots provided only a bare minimum of recreation parking space as it is. He cited supper-time hours, when ballplayers and spectators fill every space in the lots. He also told Committee that the Recreation Commission

Question of the Week

Question: Should the church speak out on Vietnam?

Where asked: Campus, Princeton Theological Seminary.

Richard Brand, Brown Hall, Seminary student: I think the church has the moral responsibility to speak on every issue that confronts man. Vietnam is confronting every member of our society and, therefore, the church has to take some stand. It must consider it.

Daniel Migliore, assistant professor of theology: I think the church not only should but must speak out. Vietnam is one of the great moral issues of our time. Personally, I think the church should do what it can to bring about negotiations as quickly as possible. Certainly, at the least, it should advocate cessation of bombing of the north.

Mrs. David Tomlinson, Trenton, housewife: Yes, I think it should because most of the issues involved in Vietnam are moral issues, and the church, representing itself as a moral institution, has an obligation to speak.

Don Chatfield, member of the Seminary faculty: In the Protestant tradition, no one individual speaks for the church, but by all means, individual clergymen should make their positions clear in conversations with the laity so they do not speak for the church as if it had a unified voice. I believe, in a sense, in the old Quaker idea: by hearing voices of Christians one begins to find what the spirit of God is saying — though we do need prophetic leadership, too, in the sense of single individuals qualified to speak.

William Hufham, Lawrenceville, Seminary instructor: Yes, it should. I don't think the church should try to dictate any answers but try to focus attention on individual issues so the individual church member can make his own decisions. It's not something you can be neutral about.

Miss Shirley Owens, Woodstown, student: No, I think this should be a matter of individual conscience.

Hal Carspecker, South Charleston, W. Va., Seminary student: I would say the institutional church has a responsibility to its members to get them to be aware of the situation and to form their own opinions. The Presbyterian General Assembly recently issued a statement of conscience asking questions like: Why are we there? Why does the United States have responsibility for another nation? How active should this responsibility be?

Budge Gere, Clinton, N. Y., Seminary student: It's really an individual matter. It's impossible for the church to make one specific stand... there's probably as many different opinions about Vietnam as there are people in the church. So you really have to speak out as a person of a church, much as an historian speaks out about any event in history.

Barry Whelan, Northampton, N. H., Seminary student: Yes, because I don't think Vietnam is purely a political issue; it involves morality as well as politics.

Jack Layendecker, Hamilton Township Seminary student: If they know anything about it yes. The church should know, however, exactly the same amount the government does before it makes any political decisions about Vietnam.

Art Schaefer, Richardson, Texas, former Seminary student: I think it has a right to and should. The problem is, how do you find out what the church thinks. Is it at a meeting, a big church conference or from individual clergymen? The church is so fragmented. Does each denomination speak out or are we speaking as a community of God?

Peter McWilliams, Lamberville, Seminary student: I think so, definitely. I feel it is a pertinent issue and if the church is going to have any thing relevant to say, it would have to say it on Vietnam — just as it would in civil rights. I think, too, the church should be careful that what it says is not completely colored by the fact the church is an institution but rather it should balance its opinions with the evidence turned up by the defense department and other agencies concerned with the war. It's awfully easy to say everybody should love everybody else, but it's not always that easy.

Arvid Whitmore, Windsor Apartments, Seminary student: Yes, I think it should; I feel it should take a stand somewhere. Whether any way is justifiable, whether, specifically, Vietnam is just as justifiable as World War I or

World War II are questions I'd be asking myself. But to say, yes, Vietnam is okay as far as the church goes, whether the church can say yes to this is an issue in my mind that is unresolved. I'm not familiar enough with all the issues to say whether it is a morally just war. I think one of the first things the church has to ask is the moral relevance of the war — what is it accomplishing, what will come out of it? What is the U.S. aiming at? What should be the aim of each individual Christian?

Stuart McKenzie, student pastor, Lakewood Methodist Church: Definitely, yes! You cannot separate the church from society. Because you can't, I feel the church should speak out and get involved in every issue. To do otherwise would be an ineffective church. You can't confine a church to four walls; it has to be something you feel when you walk down the street, at home, at work. One of the problems of the church is that too often it tries to maintain the status quo. With many it's no more than a social club. If we believe the church really has power and spirit, let that spirit of God be spoken. Jesus didn't keep quiet; he spoke out on the issues of his time. Suppose he had kept it within him. I really think this is where the church falls down. If we believe in this power and don't speak out, then our witness becomes false.

The young intern was making his early morning rounds. "When do you expect your baby, ma'am?" "June 6th." "He passed to the second bed. "And when do you expect your baby?" "June 6th." At the third bed the occupant was asleep, so he turned again to No. 2. "How about this young lady, when is her baby due?" "I don't know," came the reply, "She didn't go to our picnic." This is by way of saying that we have nothing to say about our current films. What should we do, gild the gell?

"TERRIBLY REWARDING!"
"Working with these high school actors is so rewarding, so terribly rewarding!" exclaimed Director Peggy Henning as she took a deep breath between rehearsals of Arthur Miller's "A View From the Bridge."
The Miller drama will be given by the Princeton High School Summer Theatre next Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Band Room at the high school.

"The kids organized this drama group on their own initiative, you know," explained Mrs. Henning. "I'm the director because I just happened to be here when the youngsters wanted the group."
"Here" is Princeton High where Mrs. Henning is a substitute in the English Department.

Romper Alumna. Mrs. Henning, who has lived in Princeton for the past two years, came to the English Department from Romper Room, of all places.

She taught teachers how to teach in Romper Room, the TV show for toddlers, and she entered Romper Room after seven years of professional repertory work in New York, Kentucky and Massachusetts. "The tight scheduling you get in repertory rehearsal certainly helped me blocking out teenagers," she says with a smile.

Mrs. Henning was somewhat dismayed when the high school drama group told her they wanted to do "View from the Bridge." It's a taxing play, and one that makes tremendous demands on its leading character, the longshoreman, Eddie.
"But we went ahead, anyhow, and of course this football player, Karl Stange, is exactly right for Eddie — he's really wonderful in the part."

Mrs. Henning finds that directing teen-agers is rewarding, in part, because they have few inhibitions.
"Their instincts work well," she observes, "and they have a natural grace and fluidity of movement — they couldn't tell you why they move beautifully, but they do."
Double Team. There were so many young actors — about 35 — that Mrs. Henning had to think up ways to use all the pent-up talent and drive, in fact, she had to double up on the Miller female leads to take care of everybody who wants to act.

She suggested a Children's Theatre for which the teens would write and direct their own plays, and this summer's "Cinderella," which toured Princeton playgrounds, was the result of the suggestion.
"We hope we can work this into the summer recreation program next year," she says with eagerness. "After all, any youngster who wants to do this kind of theatre, should have a chance at it. I hope the private schools will join in, too."

The cast of "A View From the Bridge," besides Karl Stange, includes Elen Shattsneider, who will play Catherine on Monday night and Sara Lively who will play the part on Tuesday; Frazer Lively who will be Beatrice on Monday night and Shirley Kidd who will take over the role on Tuesday.
Also Andy Bloch as Rodolpho, Alexander Lough as Marco, Jim Peskin as Alfieri and Ken Jacobs, Ray Colcord and Pam Henning as longshoremen, immigration officers and neighbors.
Jim Peskin is coordinator of the technical staff. The lights committee consists of Reggie David, Steve Gagne and Jim Peskin; Set, Jim Peskin and Toni Pashko; Props, Carol Johnson, Pat Kidd, Marty Lough and Toni Pashko; Make-up, Marty Lough, Connie Kreiss is the stage manager.

"MR. ROBERTS" NEXT
At Washington Crossing. "Mr. Roberts," the comedy about life on board a supply ship in World War II, will be presented by Trenton's Theatre in The Park at the Open Air Theatre of Washington Crossing State Park on Friday and Saturday at 8:30.
Joe Flynn will play the title role of an idealistic young lieutenant who is disappointed at being left on the sidelines of the combat. Bill Parent will play the commander, an incompetent uneducated charlatan, who despises Roberts for his ability to maintain the loyalty of the crew.
Lee R. Yopp has directed the production. The setting is by Jim Conaway; the lighting, by Don Toner, and the costumes, by Carol Thompson. Also in the cast are Bob Coucill, Jim Fagan, Phil Orlando, Bill Cook and Frank Brooks.
Those wishing additional information about performances should call the Park office, 737-0623.

AT THE PLAYHOUSE, and the Lawrence Drive-In this week is the film "A Guide for the Married Man," a Hollywood comedy all about sex.

The cast includes Alice Richmond (Mimi), Lia Della (Musetta), Herman Malamood (Rodolfo), ST Kimbrough (Marcello), John Sharp (Colline), and Hector Nieves (Shaunard). The production, which has been well received, is directed by Igor Chichagov, artistic director of the Opera Assn. and conductor of the Baltimore Opera.

A Guide for the Married Man (now playing) A better title might well be "How to Commit Adultery in 10 Easy Lessons." For that is exactly what this adult farce is about—not how to make the little woman happy but how to cheat on her without her being the wiser.

Robert Morse sets out to teach Walter Matthau the do's and don'ts of successful philandering. These are presented in a series of skits, drawing upon Lucille Ball, Jack Benny, Polly Bergen, Joey Bishop, Sid Caesar, Inger Stevens, Art Carney, Jayne Mansfield, Carl Reiner, Phil Silvers and Terry-Thomas.

Probably the wildest skit is the one done mostly in pantomime by Carl Reiner. Cast as a famous film star, he and Linda Harrison as a starlet, go all the way around the world in opposite directions to make a rendezvous in Italy, only to be discovered by his wife at the end. How to get out of the house at night without making the spouse suspicious is demonstrated by Lucille Ball and Art Carney. He picks a fight with her over her cooking so he can stay out all night with a lady friend.

Adult audiences may get a charge out of this tongue-in-cheek film. It's a lightweight, filled with sly as well as obvious humor. One other observation—seldom have so many beautiful girls appeared in one film. The use of color is an asset.

GARDEN and PRINCE

Barefoot in the Park (starts Wednesday at the Prince, Thursday at Garden). Neil Simon's hilarious Broadway comedy has not lost any of its zip in this film version.

As in the play, the action revolves around the first couple of days of a newly-married couple in their fifth-floor walk-up Greenwich Village apartment. The wife's mother and an eccentric neighbor also enter the arena. The Simon dialogue sparkles with laughs throughout.

Three of the players in the stage version are back: Robert Redford is the ambitious slightly conservative attorney; Mildred Natwick delightfully plays his mother-in-law; and Herbert Edelman is the long suffering telephone repairman. Replacing Elizabeth Ashley as the flighty new wife is Jane Fonda, and Charles Boyer takes over as the rooftop neighbor.

The film is definitely one of the better comedies to come around in a good while.

It's New To Us

Stephenotis appears surprisingly in a pot—we thought its native habitat was the bridal bouquet. A new hybrid prayer plant is a vining type, with unusual red-veined leaves and a graceful trailing habit.

Outside, down some steps from the crib to a pleasant little brick patio, Flower Crib has a shrub or two for autumn planting. The blue Atlas cedar is that unusual tree that grows with its needles almost along the trunk and branches. The shape contorts as the tree grows and by the time it's mature, you have a really eye-catching specimen. The dwarf Hinoki cypress and the Mugo dwarf pine can be kept dwarf by banai enthusiasts.

But it's not a plant or a shrub that excites the Crib at the moment. It's a new French duster, just imported and so new that only one other nursery in the state has one. It's simply made, and easy to empty and clean because of its wide opening. It has a bellows arrangement, and to dust your roses or tomatoes all you do is shake gently. Shake the duster, that is.

FORBIDDEN SWEETS

Chocolates, Cookies . . . People with a sweet tooth and a doctor who says don't eat sugar or salt, can find manna at Louise Maas' on Palmer Square where the stock of dietetic candies and cookies grows faster than your waistline.

For medical dieters, Miss Maas recommends white chocolate Genevas—those solid little chocolates packed in a fluted cup. There is also good rich bittersweet bark with nuts, and plain vanilla bark whose creamy coloring is cool just to look at in summertime.

Miss Maas tells us that these barks and the Genevas have the flavor of the real thing. Candymakers have learned ways of retaining flavor even though salt is left out and sweetening is artificial.

In candy wrappers, there is the half-pound "World's Best," a milk chocolate bar at 85c, and the Zip, a milk chocolate with peanuts and raisins. Droesle sends over a bittersweet and a milk chocolate bar at 18c each, two for 35c.

Estee has assorted hard candies in sour lime, sour cherry, lemon and so on, all in a package, and there is apricot "leather," made from pure dried apricots, high in food value and free of all artificial sugar and salt.

Want a cookie? Century has assorted sugar-free butter cookies. Want a fancy dessert? Abbott's dietetic ice-cream comes in lemon, coffee, butter pecan, as well as chocolate and vanilla.

By the way—Miss Maas reminds calorie-conscious customers that these chocolates won't do a single thing to keep your weight down. Sugar-free they may be, fat-free they are not.

Cool summer salads . . . fresh fruit bowl with cottage cheese or a "Florida" salad with pineapple, cream cheese, tomato . . . have a refreshing sandwich or a cold plate, an iced drink too . . . and take home half a gallon of Costa's French ice-cream.

mothers who will be driving to the new Middle School (Valley Road Community Park) to pick up children.

Township engineer Frank Quinly explained that school buses have had to use Leigh-Birch three or four times a day. The Traffic Safety Committee, school officials and the Recreation Commission have worked out a traffic plan that would take buses off Leigh-Birch and use the recreation parking lots.

I protest! Mrs. Serge Bonot, 72 Henry Avenue, suggested that Leigh Birch residents might pay a small yearly fee to park overnight in the lots, and Mr. Hatcher explosively refused this. "Build more parking lots!" he exclaimed, referring again to the narrow Birch Leigh house lots that make installation of a driveway impossible.

Committeeman Wilson had been building up steam during this exchange, and finally he said, with some choler, "We have a moral responsibility to the people in this area . . ."

He then outlined the history of the land now occupied by Community Park School and the recreation complex. He said Leigh-Birch area residents were the beneficiaries of a charitable organization which set aside the original tract of land, which was not originally intended to be used as a community park or as a school ground.

On the question of who has jurisdiction in the parking lots, the Recreation Commission or Township Committee, Mr. Wilson said sharply that Committee had brought the Recreation Commission to life in the first place, and was in a position to cut it off without a Township nickel.

He then pointed out that Committeeman John Wallace, absent on vacation, has a keen interest in recreation matters, and said he wouldn't want to act in Mr. Wallace's absence, anyway.

"As chairman of the Recreation Commission, I hope we do nothing to stifle recreation," commented Mr. Volvieder. "Offstreet overnight parking for Leigh and Birch Avenue was indeed part of our original intent when these lots were built," Mayor Schafer said, "I couldn't vote for this ordinance as it stands . . ."

In another parking area, Committee agreed to confer with Borough Council about parking on Harris Road. The Traffic Safety Committee wants an ordinance prohibiting all parking on the west side of Harris between the Borough line and Guyot, limiting and parking on the east side between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Borough co-operation is needed for the few extra feet of Harris that are in the Borough.

After hearing from Mercer Road residents who don't want a sewer, and those who do, both sides equally eloquent, Committee decided to table the $2,700 extension to get some more information.

The Board of Health wants the sewer and Committeeman Wilson warned residents who oppose it. "In the long run, there is going to be a sewer down Mercer Road."

The area is in the flood plain. Two property owners who want the sewer say their land is super-saturated and water, lacking any place to go, backs up into the house. Property owners who don't want the sewer all have septic systems which function nicely.

The State Road sewer extension fared better: it was unanimously voted in.

THREE DECADES END

In Present Borough Hall. The turnout was sparse, the agenda more than routine, and the future nonexistent as Borough Council ended its 31-year history in the present Borough Hall with its regular August meeting Tuesday night.

Barring additional undue delays, the September meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, September 13, to avoid conflict with primary day Tuesday, the 12th, will be held in the new Borough Hall on the other side of Stockton street. Council moved into the present building from the old Ivy Hall on Mercer Street in 1931.

In a brief session, Council introduced an ordinance updating the present measure controlling the Borough police force. There are no drastic changes in the new law, which according to Mayor Henry Patterson "formalizes some things which have been done informally in the past."

Councilman Enoch J. Durbin gave a progress report on the Community Pool complex.

commenting that the operation has been very successful so far with attendance meeting "figures we hoped we might have after three years." Discipline around the pools is also being handled very well, Councilman Durbin said.

Par Three Golf He commented that he was now looking around for something for older people to do at Community Park and mentioned a par-three golf course as a possibility. It is the kind of activity that is completely self-supporting, Mr. Durbin pointed out.

In response to a question from Councilman William Walker, Mr. Durbin said he did not feel that fees for the pool should be reduced, pointing out that they are lowest in the state for a pool complex of this type.

In other action, Council moved that two probationary patrolmen, Timothy Huizing and Bernard Lenhardt, be promoted to full patrolmen. Ptl. Huizing effective August 15 and Ptl. Lenhardt, September 1. Ptl. James J. Bloor's request to live in Cranbury was approved under the new eight-mile limit ordinance passed in June.

Light at Elm?

A situation which has produced more heat than light grew a little brighter this week.

Mercer County Freeholder Richard J. Coffee has informed Mayor Henry S. Paterson that county funds have been appropriated for a traffic light at the Elm-Cleveland Rosedale intersection.

This doesn't mean the blinkers will start tomorrow, however. The state still thinks a light isn't necessary at that intersection, and state approval is required. Mr. Coffee told Mayor Paterson that the county still hasn't given up hope, and will try to persuade the state to make an exception to its traffic-count rules, and allow installation of a control system.

buildings that morning. Later that same day, Borough police chief Peter J. McCrohan reported, a man tried unsuccessfully to cash one of the checks at the branch office of the Princeton Bank & Trust Co. at the Shopping Center.

Another attempt failed at the Broad Street National Bank in Trenton, but at the First National Bank, the same man deposited $250 out of one of the checks to a fictitious account number, and received the balance $300, in cash.

Chief McCrohan said the police cannot be sure how many checks were stolen, because some University employees may not have reported their check missing. Detective Robert B. McAvonia is investigating and has a suspect.

In a separate incident, a brown envelope containing $450 in cash was stolen from a desk drawer in the office of Prof. Gerd Schneider located in 226 East Pyne Hall sometime between last Friday and Monday.

There was no sign of forced entry, police said.

Chestnut Is "Flag Street."
To the Editor of Town Topics:
I agree with Mr. Wegel (TOWN TOPICS, Aug. 3) in the part of his letter to Post 76, in regards to our country's flag being displayed.

Many veterans, First Aid members, firemen, and politicians live and have lived on this street who are proud to fly our flag. On some occasions each year, this street flies more flags than the entire Borough and Township combined.

Please fly your flag. We would not mind being beaten.

Squibb's Image Questioned
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter I have sent to Richard M. Furland, president of E. R. Squibb & Son.

I was very much astonished to read in our local newspaper that E. R. Squibb & Co. is going ahead with its plans to locate on Route 206 in light of the suit which the North Lawrence Civic Association is filing.

The evening you and other Squibb representatives introduced yourselves to the Lawrence Township citizens, you went to great length to emphasize your desire to be a good neighbor, and would want to be welcomed by ALL the residents. It must be quite apparent to you by now that at least 90% of your "would-be" neighbors are not exactly spreading out the "WELCOME" mat for you.

It seems most incomprehensible to me that a company who is so greatly concerned with projecting the proper "IMAGE," hence its choice of the most beautiful spot along 206, would want to mar that image by forcing itself into the best rural residential area a community has.

I should think you would want to help us maintain the lovely residential atmosphere we have all worked so hard to achieve. It is quite arrogant, to say the least, for a company the size of Squibb to come in and take over this section.

We have plenty of developed acres which our "planners" zoned purposely for Industrial research and all other kinds of research, since we all know too well that rural residential and commercial complexes do not mix. For that matter, neither do the average residential areas harmonize with commercial uses. Why disrupt this peaceful atmosphere we are entitled to enjoy in the environs of our home?

We feel that your "IMAGE" would be very greatly enhanced far beyond what the "rolling hills of 206" ever could, if you would respect our recently adopted Master Plan at an approximate cost to the taxpayer of $20,000.00, and locate somewhere in our Princetown Research Park. . . .

You also stated that you would not want to come unless all five Committee men approved the zoning change. The vote was 4 to 1. Is this the fore-shadowing of your future dealings in this township?

You further discounted the reference made at your public relations meeting to the possible merger of the Beech-Nut Co. with Squibb. The day after the 4 to 1 vote on the ordinance however, the N. Y. Times announced the new name of The Squibb Beech-Nut Co. Perfect timing! Can you blame us for having no faith at all in the many "high sounding" statements you have made so far?

Your stationery contains the imprint — "The 'priceless ingredient' of every product is the honor and integrity of its maker." This slogan has now left me "wondering" and "pondering!"

It appears to me as though Lawrence Township has now become another "Wholly-owned" subsidiary of Olin-Matheson!

glass in a window of the Railway Express Building at the bottom of University Place some time last weekend and scooped up $15 in cash and $25 in coins.
The robbery was discovered by Paul Rossi, a cashier, at 8:50 a. m. Monday. Detective Robert McAvonia and Sgt. Mike Carnevale are investigating.

The theft of a pair of binoculars worth $500 and $25 in coins was reported to police last Thursday by Mrs. Elma Heiden, who operates the Swedish Massage Studio, 130 Nassau Street. The Heidens had sublet their apartment while they were away, and found a storage cabinet broken into upon their return. Police would like to question the roomer, who could not immediately be located.

A small storage shed belonging to Nicholas Dewey, 114 Spruce Street, was broken into sometime before July 25. A shovel, a bag of peat moss, a hand saw, a basketball hoop and parts of a bicycle were taken.

Electrical equipment, including several feet of cable, was stolen from Griffin Electrical Contractors on Thursday at the North Harrison Street housing project. The loss was put at more than $10.

Two minor acts of vandalism were reported by police. John Hegarty, 3 Harris Road, told police someone threw a rock through the window of his car as he was driving north on Bayard Lane near Stanworth on Wednesday, August 2 at 11:15 p. m.

A 3x5 window in the boiler room of the YMCA was smashed with a brick sometime Friday night during the teenage dance at the Y. Police suspect it was the work of troublemakers, who had been refused admittance to the dance earlier in the evening.

FOOD MACHINERY: How to run the various machines found in any big restaurant will be part of the curriculum in the new Adult School "Food Service Training Course." Thomas Root, Director of Food Services for Princeton University, will direct the course. He is shown here with a slicer in one of the University kitchens where the course will be given. His assistants are Miss Paris Swain (left) and Mrs. Lottie Rhodes. Miss Swain lives at 25 Green Street. Mrs. Rhodes is the wife of a Seminary student and lives in the Seminary apartments. FOOD COURSE OFFERED

By Adult School. A food service training course, taught by Thomas Root, director of Food Service at Princeton University, will be offered this fall by the Adult School in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce.

The course is an entirely new direction for the Adult School. Classes will not be held in the high school, but in various kitchens, University clubs, and dining halls, to give the participants actual experience with the most modern equipment available.

The class will be open to men and women, 17-25, and will meet for seven successive Thursday nights from 8 to 9:45 p.m., starting September 28. Since the course is extremely limited in size, those interested should write immediately to Harold Ostroff, chairman of the restaurant division of the Chamber of Commerce, Palmer Square, Princeton.

The course is designed to help those who already work in this field earn more pay through improvement of job skills. It is also aimed at aiding those with no experience who wish to enter the field. The course is not for the "home cooker," but for those who wish to become professionals. There are jobs in the Princeton area starting at $75, and up to $150, that can not be filled because of the lack of qualified personnel.

ADULT SCHOOL PLANNED

In Pennington. The new Hopewell Valley Community Adult School is expected to open at Hopewell Valley Central High School on Monday, October 2, and continue for 10 weeks.

The faculty for the course will include Dr. Lee H. Bristol Jr., president of the College; Robert Hobbs of Trinity Church, and teachers from Toronto, Indianapolis and England.

When you stop by allow us to present you with a copy of the "Princeton Portfolio." We had it designed to help celebrate our fiftieth anniversary. The portfolio contains six pictures of Princeton of long ago, antique tinted and ready for framing.

Princetonites have looked to Princeton Savings for top earnings since our founding in 1917. During these 50 years we've taken pride in the fact that our dividend yield has kept us among the area leaders. Our present rate of 4½% illustrates the point.

Earnings, to the sophisticated saver, are of great importance but we've always thought that the little extras in service were pretty important too. At Princeton Savings you get the advantage of both.

If you'd like to do business with people who like to do business with you and aren't too bashful to show it, open your account with us.

Princetonites have helped us grow for half a century. We like to remember the times we helped them too.

Merwick, the Elsie Proctor Matthews unit of Princeton Hospital, was founded to provide care for the elderly and chronically ill in a congenial atmosphere and at the same time free beds in the main hospital for more urgent cases.

The unit was founded in a Tudor style mansion on Bayard Lane, which was given to the hospital by the University. The new building will be an L-shaped extension of the main wing.

John Psiris, a hospital management consultant from Chicago, spoke at the ground breaking and noted that Princeton's long-term care program was "one of the best in the country."

ROY CHOIRS TO MEET

WE DO!

WATCH the next 11 drivers you see. You and they are part of a gamble. Every year, 1 out of 12 drivers gets caught in a two car crash.

In a collision, the gas tank can explode like the flash that sets off dynamite.

Eight tenths of a second later there's a second collision — the crash between the passengers and the car's insides. Like hammers striking nails, the passengers ram into lethal little things: gear-shift levers, ignition switches, chrome decorations on seats, glove compartments. One-fifth of the passenger deaths result from being impaled by the steering wheel.

WATCH the next 11 drivers you see. Watch defensively. Keep your distance. A rule of thumb is one car length of space for every 10 miles of speed. Don't be crowded by the car behind. Being hit from the rear may knock your car into the vehicle ahead and trigger a chain of collisions. If necessary, pull off the road to let the tailgater by.

Signal your intentions. Keep the fellow behind you off your tail by signaling when you intend to turn, change lanes or make a sudden stop. And finally, study the traffic picture around you and plan for any eventuality.

Have a safe trip this summer. Take care. We care!

JUDGMENT & TIMING

The interchange is called "no man's land" for motorists. It confronts the driver suddenly with a rapid-fire series of decisions. At 60 mph, he must pick his path through a series of traffic-merging ramps.

A slowdown to read a sign can cause an accident. A stop can be disastrous. A wrong turn can take a driver miles out of his way.

Staying on course is no easy task with such monster interchanges as the one now under construction near Newark Airport to link the 32 lanes of Routes 1, 21, 22, 78 and the New Jersey Turnpike.

One of the suggestions before the New Jersey Highway Department is a pathfinder system to guide motorists through freeway interchanges. A sign would tell a motorist to follow some trailblazing symbol, such as a colored arrow, through the interchanges if he is headed for some specified destination. This would speed communication to the motorist during the crucial time he is in the interchange area and must make decisions quickly.

It takes all kinds of interchanges to get drivers off or on freeways. That's why travelers this summer should keep a sharp eye for advance informational and directional signs.

You should move to the right lane far in advance of the deceleration lane. Signal your intention to turn. Reduce speed when entering the deceleration lane. Observe the reduced speed limits on exit ramps.

It takes two to make an entrance onto a superhighway: the driver entering and the driver already on the freeway. As you enter the freeway, keep to the right, increase speed to merge smoothly with the traffic flow. That takes judgment and timing.

The driver already on the super road should adjust his speed and help the other driver get on the highway. That takes courtesy.

ADD FOUR POUNDS

When you anticipate turnpike driving at sustained top legal speeds, increase the air pressure in your tire 4 lbs. above normally recommended cold starting pressure. This precaution can help reduce high speed tire distortion and its dangers.

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO IF ?

You're caught in a lightning storm

You're indoors —

Don't stand in doorways or near open windows. Keep away from large metal objects, the fireplace, plumbing fixtures, telephone and TV. All of these can conduct lightning into your house.

You are outdoors —

Seek shelter in a building. Or get in an automobile and roll up the windows. If no other shelter is available, stay low in a ditch, under a cliff, in a cave or flat on the ground.

Never allow yourself to become the tallest object in an area, for lightning usually chooses tall targets. Lightning's favorite target is an isolated tree. Other dangerous spots are in a boat, in swimming, atop a hill, near a wire fence, overhead wires or towers, on a horse or on a bicycle.

You are thrown from a boat

Stick with the boat even if it is capsized. Nearly all boats — metal or wood — will float and are your best life preservers. They also attract rescuers.

Grasp the edges of the boat with your fingers, submerge to your nose and paddle toward shore.

If the boat is upside down, lock hands with another person over the boat's bottom. This gives you a surer grip and helps prevent fatigue.

If the boat is awash but still afloat, simply climb inside and sit in the bottom.

Someone is overcome by heat

Heat exhaustion —

He will be weak, nauseated, perspiring, pale and clammy. Put him to bed. Make him drink a half teaspoon of salt in a half glass of water every 15 minutes for three or four doses.

Heat stroke —

Extremely serious, especially to the elderly. He has headache, dry skin, rapid pulse and extremely high temperature. Get him to a hospital.

In the meantime, make him lie down, sponge his body with water or alcohol to bring his temperature down to normal.

You get sleepy while driving

The drowsy driver forgets that the world's most important people are in his car. He may fall asleep and run off the road or into another car.

Best solution is to stop and get a good night's sleep. Or pull off the road and sleep for a hour or so.

If this is impossible, take a break. Often just walking around the car will revive you. Open the windows and get a blast of fresh air in your face.

Turn on the radio loud. Sing to yourself. Drive in your stocking feet. Don't take stay-awake pills. The lift the pills give will eventually wear off, and leave you more dangerously tired than before.

DO YOU KNOW?

Water is good for burns

The ancient treatment of simply plunging burned skin in ice water is still the quickest way to relieve pain. The cold water does not damage burned skin, but actually helps prevent blistering and aids healing. Keep the burned area submerged until the pain disappears. Or apply towels that have been soaked in ice water.

You can treat both minor burns and serious ones with this method. Don't put greasy ointment on serious burns. Call your doctor immediately.

TV flickers can mean danger

A dim or shrinking television picture is sometimes an indication that electrical circuits are dangerously overloaded.

Overloaded wiring often becomes hot enough to start a fire. If you notice such danger signs as dim lights, slow-heating appliances, TV flickers, call in an electrician to check the wiring.

A Statement From Princeton Quakers:

The Princeton Monthly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, moved by its concern about the application of the Friends peace testimony to current conflicts, approved the following minute:

1. We have supported and are supporting the rehabilitation projects of the American Friends Service Committee in South Vietnam, and its efforts to do similar work in the North, as well as its efforts to bring about an end of the Vietnamese War.
 2. We have followed with compassionate concern the voyage of mercy of the ship Phoenix to North Vietnam, and we express our support of efforts by Friends to bring relief to all parts of Vietnam, both North and South.
 3. We resolve to express actively our concern for every victim or potential victim of war throughout the world.
 4. While extending the hand of love and friendship to those who serve in the armed forces of our country, we resolve to give both spiritual and material aid to those who are suffering as a result of having taken the Conscientious Objector position.
 5. We resolve to work in every possible way toward full support of the peaceful work of the United Nations, endeavoring to increase its power and prestige as the best instrument of peace.
- The Princeton Monthly Meeting hopes, this summer, 1967, to be able to face the fears, dangers, contradictions and problems in trying to help create peace in one world. We will, actively and individually, do those acts that we feel we can, toward making world peace a real possibility. And we admit that we can only accomplish this goal by becoming braver, more tolerant, more friendly, God willing.

Calling All Home Makers

By Walter L. Harris

IMAGINATION AND

IN DECORATING

When someone asks me "What are the main rules in decorating a home?" I give them this answer: The simple ingredients are imagination, courage and, good taste.

In decorating your home, realize that you are expressing your own personality. And you should certainly consider your own basic likes and dislikes. You can do a beautiful job in many different ways and styles.

One noticeable trend today is to mix periods, woods and finishes, so it is not difficult to assemble the things you like.

I always say that money will never take the place of good taste. If all the homes in Princeton were furnished on a shoe-string that could win a prize in decorating shows.

So, regardless of your budget, you can furnish your home attractively with the exact pieces you need and like.

And, don't be afraid to express your imagination! When you do need assistance in selecting any pieces of furniture, we can help you pick the things you want at the price you can afford.

The See and Drive New V-4 Engine

Funny, you don't look like

But you still think SAAB has only one kind of engine. Our famous 2-cycle, 3-cylinder "Shrike" engine. Well don't bet on it. Because SAAB now has a new V-4 engine. too. Zero to 50 in 10 seconds. Top speeds of over 90 mph. More power for acceleration. For hills. For safer passing. (And V-4 SAABs have front wheel disc brakes, for stopping all that power.) Funny thing, but it looks like this new high-performance V-4 should make the rally-winning car in the world an even bigger winner. (That's something you can bet on.)

Both Backfields Depleted. When Princeton's football team completed its largely unanticipated feat of earning a first-place tie in the Ivy League last fall, it was readily apparent that a major share of the success was traceable to the skill of its defensive platoon. Despite the fact that the offense averaged less than two touchdowns against seven opponents (relatively weak Brown and Penn teams were the lone exceptions), Princeton finished its season with a highly-acceptable 7-and-2 mark.

This takes some doing, and it was the defense which made it possible. In the five climactic Ivy games, all of which the Tigers won to earn a three-way deadlock with Dartmouth and Harvard, Princeton yielded an average of just five points while the outcome hung in the balance.

Now the defense has been largely depleted, and while the offense has virtually the same number of gaps to be filled, the big task will be to bring the 1967 Tigers somewhere near the capability of their predecessors in grinding the opposition to a halt. Conversely, the attacking unit will have to accelerate considerably faster than it did last fall in order to post sufficient points on the board to offset the errors to be expected from an inexperienced defense.

POSITIONS OPEN: Three of the biggest gaps to be filled on the 1967 Princeton football team were created by the graduation of this trio of deep backs in the defensive secondary. Gone are Hayward Gipson, Doug James and Marty Eichelberger, three-year veterans whose dominance of the scene was a major factor in Tigers' unexpected ability to share the Ivy title last fall.

Actually, graduation deleted names from the starting platoons almost evenly — both numerically and by position. The offensive platoon lost six players — three in the line and three-fourths of the backfield. The defense saw eight regulars depart — three in the line, the three deep backs and both linebackers.

Two Were All-Ivy. One clear indication of the extreme balance Dick Colman and his staff created last year in earning a share of first place is reflected in the fact that Princeton had only two players (Captain Walt Kozumbo and defensive back Doug James) among the 24 names on the All-Ivy squad. In 1965, when the Tigers finished second, they had seven with All-Ivy status.

In contrast to the picture a year ago, when the 17 letter-men who graduated represented every position on the team, the Orange and black has solid holdover experience in some spots as the 1967 season nears. Both left tackles, both right ends and the two ranking tailbacks, for example, will return to bolster the offensive unit. On defense, where reserve depth was also largely cleaned out also, the only spot two-deep with 1966 veterans is right defensive halfback.

By positions, these are the players lost by graduation:

Ends: Walt Kozumbo and Larry Stupis, the starting defensive ends whose play, particularly in the 18-14 upset of previously unbeaten Harvard, was vital in the Tigers' drive from last place to first in the Ivy standings. Cornell coach Jack Musik called them the two best in the Ivy League. On offense, the left side of the line lost starter Pete Zeitloff and his immediate replacement, Bill Potter, both good receivers and blockers.

Tackles: Carl Behnke, listed as a center a year ago but versatile enough to earn a starting berth as a defensive tackle. Also on defense, John "The House" Seifert, a 250-lb. operative who was inserted in a reserve capacity with some frequency, particularly when the opposition neared the Princeton goal line.

Guards: Jim Kokoskie, slowed for two years by injuries, won a starting assignment as a linebacker last season and made steady contributions to the team's progress. Missing on offense will be Lynn Brewbaker, a heavy-duty reserve, and John Morin, who saw a fair amount of action in a replacement capacity on the opposite side of the line from Brewbaker.

Center: Bob Ehret, a starter only in his senior year but one whose progress last fall meant much to the Tigers. It was his clear-cut ability to handle the job that freed Carl Behnke to play defensive tackle, one of the numerous shifts of personnel that clicked for the Tigers on their way to the top.

Wingbacks: John Bowers graduated, and with him goes blocking ability that Dick Colman says was "the best we ever had at this position." In addition, Bowers ran with authority, averaging 4.6 yards per carry, and was a frequent target of the tailbacks on passes, catching seven for touchdowns during his three years on the varsity. It is quite unlikely that his ability will be matched by any player on the 1967 squad.

Quarterbacks: Between them, Chuck Peters and Tad Howard ran better than 95% of the plays that Princeton launched last season, and both were members of the Class of 1967. Peters started the first seven games but was injured against Harvard; Howard came on as a non-letterman but had the poise and potential to guide the team to victories over Yale and Cornell. Here, at wingback and at center, Princeton will begin building for the new season right from scratch.

Fullbacks: As a quarterback, both players who shared the arduous chores in this work-Bill Berkeley, who handled all horse position have graduated, the punting for three seasons, saw just a shade more action than big Dave Martin. The latter, who added an unusual — Continued on Next Page passing threat to the fullback slot, finally came into his own after two seasons of continuing problems as a reserve tailback. Between them, they averaged close to four-yards per carry.

Tailbacks: None.

Defensive Backs: Ron Grossman joined Hayard Gipson, Doug James and Marty Eichelberger when the Class of 1967 picked up its diplomas. All four saw action in more than 700 plays apiece and inasmuch as the season's total was 1491, that would indicate they were almost invariably on the field when the other guys had the ball. Grossman, who ranked on a par with Berkeley and Martin as a fullback, played line-backer. Gipson was the right cornerback and James and Eichelberger were the safety-men, James contributing numerous fine punt returns in that capacity.

In all, the Tigers will lose 19 lettermen, only Columbia and Harvard graduating more among the Ivy teams. In view of the quality represented by those who departed, it will be a major coaching feat to bring Princeton to the point where it again make a run down to the wire for the league championship.

ASTRO CLINCHES TIE

In Business League, RCA Astro won its 12th game in Business Softball League competition last week, with a 9-4 triumph over EMR, and clinched at least a tie for first place in the eastern division. Astro holds a two-game edge over McGraw-Hill and American Cyanamid with two games left to play.

McGraw-Hill kept its hopes alive with a 14-8 victory over Shell Oil. Tom Wood and Fred Schwartz had three hits apiece for the winners, and Bob Debus gained credit for the win.

After a brief flourish, FMC returned to the ranks of the losers, dropping an 11-7 decision to Accelerator. Barry Hibbs blasted out two doubles and a triple; Joe McFadden also went three for four with a homer; Pete Savali had a four bagger and Cliff Harten had two hits for Accelerator. Rich Munday went four for four for FMC.

In the western division, powerful Columbian Carbon moved just one step away from an undefeated season, crushing Opinion Research, 22-1, for its 15th straight win. Only Accelerator stands between Carbon and a perfect 16-0 season's record. Forrest Parker had two of Carbon's seven homers, and Jack Sheldon went five for five.

In other games, ERC won a pair, edging ETS, 8-6 and beating Hopewell TV, 11-4. NCA climaxed a long drive to escape the eastern division cellar, with a 7-7 win over RCA A. Cyanamid remained in contention for first place knocking off the Telephone Workers, 19-9.

JANE FREMON WINS

At National Swim Meet, Jane Fremon, representing the Princeton YWCA, won a gold medal and set a record Friday at the national swimming meet held at the New York Athletic Club at Yavers Island, N. Y.

She captured first place in the 100-meter freestyle for girls 13 and 14 in the time of 1:06, a new A.A.U. Metropolitan district record. Peggy Jahay, also representing the Y, was fifth.

Anne Fraser, of Toledo, Ohio, in Princeton for her second summer of work with Bob Clotworthy, coach of the Princeton University swimming team and the Princeton Aquatic Association qualified for the 100-meter butterfly event in 1:09.9, well below the qualifying time of 1:10.8. She also used the butterfly stroke to take second place in a freestyle event.

Chuck Hector won a diving event for boys 11 and 12 at the meet. One day earlier, he had taken second place in a meet at Westfield, and a week ago another place in the Junior Olympics diving for boys 11 and 12 at the Colonia Swim Club. Tim Valentine was third in both these meets.

TWO ARE WINNERS

In District Tennis, Buzz Woodworth and Anders Jacobson of Princeton won the Boys 12 Doubles in the New Jersey district junior tournament. They defeated Peter Montaghan of Haverford, Pa. and Tom Page of Gladwyn, Pa., 4-6, 8-6, 6-4.

Finalists in other events were: Mary Lapidus in the girls 14 singles; and Dede Pickering and Carole Sawyer of Wilmington, runners-up in the girls 14 doubles. Other Princetonians who did well in the Strong field of 159 included: Robbie Kraft, semi-finalist in the boys 12 singles; and Mike Gloucevitch, quarter-finalist in the boys 14 singles. In the consolation rounds, Dede Pickering lost in the finals to Martha Williams of Bound Brook, 6-4 2-6, 6-2. Steve Tobolsky reached the finals in the boys 14 singles against Doug Potkay, of Lawrenceville, but rain forced postponement of the deciding match.

new phone
going underground

There are several reasons.

For one thing, buried cable doesn't clutter up the landscape; neighborhoods will look neater.

Also, of course, buried cable isn't affected by storms, falling limbs, or wayward autos.

And finally, the development of new materials and cable-laying techniques has made buried cable easier to install, and more economical than in the past. As telephone service expands, more and more lines will go underground.

But it still costs money. So we're making haste slowly on this project, to keep the cost of your telephone service as low as possible.

LIONS TIE FOR LEAD

In Babe Ruth League. Winning two games and losing one last week, the Lions Club moved into a first-place tie with MacKenzie as the final week of play began in the West Windsor Babe Ruth League.

The standout feat of the week was a no-hitter by Lucar Har-durac pitcher Joe DiMeglio. In a head-to-head meeting between the two leaders, the Lions downed MacKenzie, 3-1, on the five-hit hurling of Jeff Haring, who fanned nine in gaining his sixth straight victory without a loss. Rick Boykin and J. B. Wright both had two hits for MacKenzie.

Behind another five hit pitching effort, this one by Marty Clark, the Lions won again the following day, beating Lucar, 6-2. Clark slammed a brace of doubles, while Dave Zapicchi and Rod Caldwell each picked up two hits. Roger Fowler and John Schmacher collected two safeties apiece for Lucar.

MacKenzie rebounded from its defeat by the Lions, and shut out Wil's Shell, 2-0. Boykin and Joe Cimerola combined to limit Shell to four hits, while Pete Zigler and Boykin led the winners in hitting. Joe Cavanaugh and John Hodges boomed doubles for the losers.

DiMeglio's no-hitter came on route to a 7-1 triumph over the Lions. He struck out 13 batters, but lost his shutout on a walk to Rod Caldwell, who stole two bases and scored on an error. Roger Fowler and Quentin Sherwin paced the Lucar attack.

A two-hit shutout by Jeff Wetterling gave Wil's its only win of the week, 8-0 over Lucar. Walt Dimitruk went three for four for the winners, while Wetterling and Craig Dalton chipped in with two hits each.

ENGINE CO. 1 VICTOR

In PBA Baseball. A second straight no-hitter by Bill Schilling and a two-hitter by Bobby King gave Engine Co. No. 1 the 1967 championship in the PBA Baseball league last week.

Schilling struck out 15 and picked up a double and triple at the plate as No. 1 downed the Elks, 6-1. Breezy Boccanfuso, who pitched for the Elks, gave up only three hits, fanned nine, and scored the losers' only run on a walk, error and fielder's choice.

King, who had pitched a no-hitter earlier this season, struck out 13 en route to a 5-0 win over Post 76. Greg Kline had two hits for the winners, while Pete Soderman and Mario DeVenzenzi had the only hits for Post 76.

Winning its ninth and tenth straight contests, Roma Eterna finished second in the standings, a game behind Engine No. 1. Larry Miller and Mark Richards pitched Eterna to a 9-7 triumph over Italian-American Sportsmen. Joe McGuinn weighed in with a triple and Kevin Clancey poked a double to lead Eterna at the plate.

In the second game, Eterna knocked off the Eagles, 9-7, with Richards and McGuinn handling the pitching chores. Miller had a perfect four for four at the plate. Kevin Tybus struck out ten for the Eagles and also went four for four. Final standings:

EARNINGS MOVE UP

At Applied Research, Princeton Applied Research has reported an increase of 40% in sales volume and an increase of 20% in net income for the first six months of 1967.

Earnings per share for the first half year rose from $2.68 in 1966 to the current $3.23 according to Emil W. Lehmann, president of the Princeton-based manufacturer of precision research instruments.

Strong emphasis on new product development led to a doubling of the company's research and development effort during the period. The company's new Paris office opened April 1 and has incurred an anticipated starting deficit which was not consolidated with the reported figures.

ALL-STARS LOSE 5-2

In Lacrosse. An all-star team from the Princeton summer lacrosse league lost, 5-2, to the Fairlawn all-stars Sunday afternoon at Fairlawn.

Princeton led 1-0 at the half, but lack of reserve strength (only 16 men made the trip) cost the team in the second half as Fairlawn rallied for five goals. Mat Nichol and Terry Marzoni scored for Princeton.

This Sunday at 2:30 the team will face an all-star squad from Elizabeth. The site, (either the Hun School or Community Park) had not been picked when TOWN TOPICS went to press.

Obituaries

Dr. Walter T. Stace, 80, Stuart professor of philosophy, emeritus at Princeton University, died on August 3 at his home in Laguna Beach, Calif. A man of two careers, Professor Stace served for more than two decades as a British civil servant in Ceylon, and joining the Princeton faculty in 1932, became one of the leading philosophers of the English speaking world.

The son of a British Army officer and a native of London, Professor Stace studied at Bath College, England, and Fettes College, Scotland. He was awarded his B.A. by Dublin University in 1908 and received a doctorate in literature from the same university in 1929.

While in Ceylon from 1910 until 1932, his experience in government included service as chief censor for Ceylon, land settlement officer, private secretary to the Governor, police magistrate, district judge, and at one time mayor of the city of Colombo. During this time he also wrote distinguished works on philosophy and the problems of aesthetics.

Professor Stace, until very recently a resident of 95 Cedar Lane, was named to one of Princeton's Stuart professorships in 1938, six years after joining the faculty. He reached emeritus status in 1955. At Princeton he continued to write technical treatises on nearly every aspect of philosophy and was equally well known for his more popular writings.

His major works include: "A Critical History of Greek Philosophy" (1920); "The Philosophy of Hegel" (1924); "The Theory of Knowledge and Existence" (1932); "The Concept of Morals" (1937); "The Nature of the World" (1940); "Religions and the Modern Mind" (1952); "Time and Eternity" (1952); "The Gate of Silence," a poem (1952); "Mysticism and Philosophy" (1960) and "The Teaching of the Mystics" (1960).

After retiring from Princeton, Dr. Stace served as a visiting professor at Wheaton College, Mt. Holyoke College and Pittsburgh University. He also held a four-year Bollinger Foundation Fellowship for research. Among the honors accorded him was the $10,000 prize awarded in 1960 by the American Council of Learned Societies "in recognition of extraordinarily scholarly achievement."

Surviving are his widow, the former Blanche B. Beven, and a daughter, Mrs. Jennifer Dawson of Los Angeles, Calif. A son, Noel, a member of the Princeton Class of 1955, was killed in January 1960 while serving as a United States Navy pilot.

The service and interment were in California.

Frederick Bizzaro, 63, of 5 Franklin Terrace, died August 1 in Princeton Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. Laura S. Bizzaro.

Born in Rocky Hill, Mr. Bizzaro was employed in the grounds and buildings department of Princeton University for 43 years.

Also surviving are a son, the Rev. Robert Bizzaro of Cranford; three grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Henry Pinell of Princeton.

The service was held in Trinity Episcopal Church, the Rev. Arthur J. Lockhart officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Mrs. Mary Price, formerly of Princeton and Lawrenceville, died on August 4. She was the widow of James Price.

Surviving are a son, William Price, and a daughter, Miss Katherine Peters, both of New York City; four grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren and one great, great-grandchild.

The service was held in New York City, with interment in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Estella P. Sheldon, 85, of Federal City Road, died August 8 in Princeton Hospital. Born in Iowa, she had lived for many years in Riverside, Calif., before moving to Princeton.

Widow of Raleigh M. Sheldon, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Roger Binn, with whom she lived, and four grandchildren.

The service was held at the Wilson Funeral Home, Princeton, the Rev. Walter Coats of the First Presbyterian Church of Pennington officiating. Burial will be in Riverside, Calif.

News Of The CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN PLAN

A Weekday Church School. The Princeton Presbyterian Commission, representing the three Presbyterian churches, is planning a professionally-staffed, weekday religious education program which would supplement the Sunday school programs in each church.

The proposal, discussed by representatives of the three churches last week, include 75-minute afternoon sessions for students from grades one through five studying in small ungraded groups. A flexible and varied schedule of learning experiences will center on a curriculum designed to meet local needs and to complement existing programs. Parents and teachers are expected to be provided with an opportunity to assess their own work with the children through observation and evaluation of the sessions.

Registration procedures and a modest tuition will be announced in early September. Inquiries may be directed to the Rev. Eliot A. Daley at First Presbyterian Church.

RELIEF APPEAL

For Arab Refugees. Contributions of funds, clothing and blankets are sought by members of Trinity Episcopal Parish for Arab refugee relief. A number of Christian and Anglican families are among the refugees made homeless by the recent Arab-Israeli fighting, including the family and friends of several members of All Saints' Chapel.

The Rev. Harry I. Lauer Jr., vicar of All Saints' Chapel, is aiding in the area through his discretionary fund. Contributions may be made to the All Saints' Chapel Discretionary Fund, Van Dyke Road, Princeton, designating them for "Arab Refugee Relief." Donations will be sent directly to the Episcopal Diocese of Jordan Lebanon and Syria, whose headquarters were in Jerusalem.

The appeal urges gifts of warm clothing because nights in the Jordan River Valley are very cold and the refugees are now living in tents. Particularly needed are clothes for individuals under 5'9" in height, children's clothing, coats, and blankets.

UNION SERVICE CHANGED

To St. Andrew's. The summer union service for Princeton Presbyterians will be held at 10 this Sunday in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, instead of in the Witherspoon Street Church as originally announced. The Rev. Eliot A. Daley, assistant minister at First Presbyterian Church, will lead the service.

In lieu of the usual sermon, Mrs. Bernice Regan and the all-Negro group of teenagers known as "The Pseukays," will offer a service in song. Mrs. Regan is the founder of the "Penny Concerts" which have drawn tremendous response throughout the South. The Pseukays, organized a year ago, meet at the Witherspoon Church.

CHEMIST OR CHEMICAL ENGINEER

WANT A DOOR OPENER? — OR WANT TO BE ONE? TO FUTURE OPPORTUNITIES, WE MEAN, NOT TO A HOTEL.

Chemical marketing research is about as good a training ground for the younger man as there is, assuming you want eventually to be an executive in the chemical process industries. It takes work, travel, meeting people, a certain amount of gall and guts. But our "graduates" will tell you it can be rewarding.

In any event we have openings for young chemical marketing researchers. You won't punch a time clock, but you might work a lot more than 40 hours, yet as little as twenty in any given week. You might find yourself in Alaska one week and in Florida the next. Or in Europe or Latin America. It's a tough work, but it's fun. And it's about the best overall training for management responsibilities that there is anywhere.

The salaries are the same as in industry — so are the benefit plans — but the experience to be gained is much more varied. You never know what you will be studying next. In a college or university course it is all planned — here it isn't.

If you are interested, please send a resume and some indication of salary requirement to —

Well built 4 year old Colonial in Princeton Township. Living room, separate dining room with French doors leading out to a beautiful fenced in garden. Ultra modern kitchen with fireplace and glass doors to the terrace. Large bedroom and bath on the first floor. Four corner bedrooms and two tiled baths plus stairs of storage on the second floor. Oversized 2 car attached garage. Large lot with a small brook. A wonderful house for a large family or someone needing room for an in-law. $55,500

Historical or Hysterical?

Either way, you still will be happy with this marvelous old Colonial. Located in quaint Griggstown, the property has about four acres with many fine old trees, 400' of frontage on the canal, a sub-divideable lot. If you are wild about antiques and interested in the rare, the house retains much of its revolutionary-day charm, but modern renovations make it completely liveable. Four bedrooms, kitchen, living room and dining room (both with fireplaces) and library give lots of space for the large family. Good barn on the premises also. $42,500

Can't help lovin' this house

Just because it's perfect. Everything has been done over and is in spanking clean condition and in the very best taste. Large family type kitchen, dining room, family room and formal living room with fireplace. For good-sized bedrooms, and a bath and half with room and plumbing for a second full bath. The yard is completely fenced. The drive is black topped and there is a barn that doubles as 2 car garage plus playroom for the children. Ideal for the New York commuter. $31,000

Extraordinary and Ingenious

a real "fun" house to own. Interior space galore; big living room with indoor-outdoor effect given by window mall, paneled study and library, master bedroom suite with delightfully different windows and skylight, three other bedrooms, two baths, and for the artist in your temperament you'll love the huge 2 storied studio room and green house. The use of antique brick and interesting fencing make the approach to the house most appealing. A rare find for someone who dares to be different! $49,500
